MORE RUSSIAN CONNECTIONS

In April 2021, the number of connections from Václav Havel Airport Prague to Russia increased. Effective 17 April 2021, a route to St. Petersburg was re-launched by Rossiya with a once weekly frequency operated on Saturdays. On 29 April 2021, Smartwings also joined the St. Petersburg route, offering passengers two flights a week. In addition, there was an increase in the number of connections on the route between Prague and Moscow with Aeroflot adding a fourth frequency to Moscow/Sheremetyevo Airport as of 23 April 2021. Flights to the Russian Federation may only be used by passengers who meet the current conditions of entry into the country and transfer passengers on connecting flights. Therefore, we recommend passengers always review all currently valid measures before the trip, thus avoiding complications during check-in or border control.

PRAGUE AIRPORT, CZECH TOURISM AND PRAGUE CITY TOURISM TO SUPPORT INCOMING TOURISM

Representatives of Prague Airport, CzechTourism and Prague City Tourism have signed a Memorandum on a long-term joint approach to the resumption and expansion of incoming tourism to Prague and the Czech Republic. It is tourism that the signers see as one of the preconditions for both economic recovery post the COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent economic growth. The co-operation also seeks to promote the development and support of sustainable tourism, which will contribute to the positive development of Prague and other regions of the Czech Republic without negatively interfering with everyday life in tourist-exposed places, such as the capital city centre.

RE-LAUNCH OF VÁCLAV HAVEL AIRPORT PRAGUE NIGHT-TIME OPERATIONS

In connection with the effect of the 2021 summer schedule, night traffic is to return to Václav Havel Airport Prague. It will thus be possible to satisfy especially the demand for flights to holiday destinations. After a forced winter break due to the COVID-19 pandemic and resulting limited traffic, the airport and its entire infrastructure will operate 24 hours a day again. The airport is aware of the possible negative impact of night-time traffic in the form of increased noise pollution in the surrounding areas. Therefore, Prague Airport has long motivated airlines via its noise charge policy to use more modern, environmentally friendly and quieter aircraft at night.
