Bus line 119 replaced by trolleybuses 59

More information

The longest trolleybus in the Czech Republic started to run to Prague Airport. The new trolleybus line 59 replaces the existing bus line 119. The three-cell trolleybus, which is almost 25 metres long, is very comfortable, has a capacity of 179 seats, and its operation is quiet and emission-free. Between Veleslavín metro station and Terminal 3, it will use the catenary and then run on battery power.

Prague Airport at Connect Route Development Forum

Prague Airport B2B Newsletter - MARCH 2023

After five years, representatives of Prague Airport participated in the CONNECT Route Development Forum held in Turin, Italy. Planned and unplanned meetings provided a space to meet with airline representatives, business partners and to hold enriching discussions on the expansion of Prague's connectivity.

Prague Airport at the Routes Asia 2024

At the end of February, Prague Airport presented again at the Routes Asia. This time it was held on the island of Langkawi in Malaysia. The importance of this event is high, especially in the context of the process of restoring air links after the global pandemic of covid-19. During the three-day event, a number of business meetings with Asian airlines from Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand, China, India and other countries took place. We believe that the positive results of these meetings will be seen soon.

Prague Airport signed a memorandum on the development of air freight transport

More information

Prague Airport has signed a memorandum on the development of cargo air transport together with 12 other companies which joined the Prague Airport Cargo Point statement. The new platform is to help boost the competitiveness and development of cargo air transport at Václav Havel Airport Prague. The main goal is to make Prague Airport more attractive, especially for long-haul passenger carriers, as according to an IATA survey, the transportation of air cargo on traditional passenger routes accounts for up to 25 percent of revenues.
