

B2B NEWSLETTER 12/2020

The year 2020 was a turning point in many ways. It has brought challenges we could not imagine before, such as the inability to meet with others, enjoy life and travel the way we used to. This year brought changes to the entire aviation and tourism sector, which we now have to deal with every day. Irrespective of what the year was, we are already looking forward to the next year. We believe that uniform travel conditions are to be set forth and that vaccination will continue successfully, which will help the whole industry. One thing is certain, the desire to travel around the world will not disappear and the aviation sector will encounter a glorious comeback upon which we will be ready to welcome happy passengers at Václav Havel Airport Prague.

We wish you a pleasant holiday season and the best of health. In 2021, may you have a lot of strength and positive energy. We are looking for our mutual co-operation next year and beyond.
