DIRECT FLIGHTS FROM PRAGUE TO OVER HUNDRED DESTINATIONS

It is currently possible to travel to more than a hundred destinations from Vaclav Havel Airport Prague. It includes also services resumed in July as well as destinations with recently increased operation. In July, EasyJet resumed its service to Geneva while Transavia re-launched service to Eindhoven. Other routes saw the operation increase in July, e.g. Barcelona (EasyJet), Larnaca (Cyprus Airways), Riga (Ryanair), Warsaw (Ryanair) and Bucharest (TAROM). Wizz Air launched direct services to several destinations, especially in Italy (Rome, Catania and Bari) while El Al has resumed a regular service to Tel Aviv. Traffic to Scandinavia was increased, too, with Norwegian's resumed services to Stockholm and Copenhagen and Ryanair's services to Stockholm and Gothenburg. NIGHT-TIME OPERATIONS OF SHOPS AND RESTAURANTS AT VACLAV HAVEL AIRPORT PRAGUE

With increasing air traffic, airport shops, restaurants, cafés and other services are gradually resuming their regular hours of operation. Some of the places remain open nonstop to meet the demand of night-time travellers. Terminal 2 visitors can enjoy the services of the Bread & Co café, located in the public area of Terminal 2 Departure Hall, which remains open all night. Costa Coffee, located in the restricted area of Terminal 2, also offers its services 24/7 to passengers who have passed security control. In the restricted area of Terminal 1, right behind the passport control point, passengers can visit the Aelia Duty Free shop all day and night. Costa Coffee, located in the Terminal 1 Departure Hall public area, also operates nonstop.

PRAGUE AIRPORT MOVES TOWARDS CARBON NEUTRALITY

Prague Airport wants to be carbon neutral by 2030 with the help of new technologies, more economical engines, sustainable fuels and hydrogen or electric propulsion of aircraft. Therefore, Prague Airport has joined the International Association of Airports' (ACI) Net Zero initiative. The Net Zero initiative aims to achieve net carbon neutrality by 2050 at the latest.

However, Prague Airport, through particular steps, has been targeting a 2030 deadline and continuously reducing emissions of CO₂ since 2010 when it joined the Airport Carbon Accreditation programme.
