EUROWINGS HAS LAUNCHED OPERATIONS FROM PRAGUE TO OVER A DOZEN DESTINATIONS

Eurowings, a subsidiary of the German national carrier Lufthansa, has launched operations of the new base at Prague Airport. For the time being, the carrier will operate two of its Airbus A320 family aircraft from Prague, offering connections to a total of 14 destinations under the winter flights schedule, incl. Barcelona, Copenhagen, Rome, Milan, and Athens. At this point, flights to up to 16 destinations across Europe, with new additions comprising for example Faro in Portugal, Stockholm, Valencia, Cologne, and Alicante, have been scheduled for the summer season. The Eurowings base ceremonial launch, held at Prague Airport on 2 November, was attended by representatives of both the airport and the air carrier.

VÁCLAV HAVEL AIRPORT PRAGUE NEW ADDITIONS HEAD BY RYANAIR AND JET2.COM ROUTES

Ryanair has increased its Václav Havel Airport Prague operations with the start of the winter flight schedule, resuming the Barcelona, Manchester, and Paris/Beauvais routes, and launching a brand-new connection to Naples. The beginning of November 2021 witnessed one more comeback with Jet2.com's resumption of Birmingham, Leeds, Manchester, and Newcastle services. Moreover, the carrier is to resume its air connections to East Midlands and Belfast in December 2021. At the end of October 2021, British Airways also resumed its flights to London/City. Vueling has launched a brand-new service to Amsterdam on 3 December 2021.

NEW AND ESTABLISHED CARRIERS IN VÁCLAV HAVEL AIRPORT PRAGUE PORTFOLIO

Even at a time when the industry is only returning to standard operation, new carriers are arriving at Václav Havel Airport Prague. For example, Bees Airline to operate a new direct route to Odesa, Ukraine, and launch direct flights to Lviv effective mid December 2021. In May 2022, PLAY will appear for the first time at Prague Airport to launch its direct flights to Reykjavik, Iceland, with a two-weekly frequency (Thursdays and Sundays). In addition, SunExpress returns to Prague after a three-year break this May, resuming its direct flights to Antalya, which will be available to passengers up to three times a week.

ONCE AGAIN, MOST AIR CONNECTIONS FROM PRAGUE HEAD TO THE UK

This winter season, Prague offers direct air connections to a total of 12 destinations in the UK, incl. four London airports (i.e. Heathrow, Gatwick, Stansted, and City), with the routes operated by six airlines. The United Kingdom has thus once again become the country with the greatest number of direct flights per week from Prague. Connections to the British Isles are offered by the new base carrier Eurowings (Birmingham and Bristol), Ryanair (Edinburgh, London/Stansted, Manchester), easyJet (Bristol, London/Gatwick, Manchester), and Jet2.com (Belfast, Birmingham, Leeds, Manchester, Newcastle, East Midlands). Traditionally, British Airways services the London's largest airport, Heathrow, which is also operated by Smartwings. British Airways has also resumed direct flights from Prague to London/City.

CZECH AIRLINES 2022 SUMMER SCHEDULE

Czech Airlines has announced plans to significantly increase its operation during the upcoming summer season, with direct flights to a total of 15 destinations in 14 countries on schedule. Czech Airlines will thus resume its routes, for example, to Brussels, Barcelona, Madrid, Rome, Helsinki, Bucharest, and Amsterdam. The carrier currently flies to Paris, Moscow, Stockholm, and Kyiv.
