NEW BASE CARRIER AND NEW ROUTES IN OCTOBER

On 25 October 2021, operations of charter flights from Prague to several long-haul exotic destinations were launched by the Čedok travel agency. Just a few days later, on 31 October, Eurowings, a new base carrier, launched its operations from Prague Airport. For the time being, the carrier will operate two of its aircrafts from Prague, offering connections to a total of 13 destinations in both key European destinations and several typical holiday places. Bees Airline is to become a new carrier active at Václav Havel Airport Prague with its launch of the direct Prague – Odesa route on 21 October 2021. Last but not least, flights to Dubai were launched on 20 October 2021 by Smartwings.

MORE AIRLINES RETURN TO PRAGUE AIRPORT IN NOVEMBER

Effective 5 November 2021, after a longer pause, Jet2.com returns to Václav Havel Airport Prague, re-launching its flights to Manchester, Birmingham, and Leeds, with the Newcastle route to follow a week later. The Manchester route will also be serviced by Ryanair as of the start of the winter flight schedule. In addition, the carrier will resume its direct services to Barcelona, and Paris (Beauvais), and offer flights on its brand-new Naples route effective 31

October. On the same day, British Airways' subsidiary BA Cityflyer is to return to Prague Airport, resuming its London City connection, while Czech Airlines re-launch the Copenhagen service. Last but not least, Vueling will launch a new air connection from Prague to Amsterdam on 3 December 2021.

DIRECT CONNECTIONS TO ALMOST 100 DESTINATIONS IN WINTER FLIGHT SCHEDULE

Effective Sunday, 31 October 2021, the winter flight schedule came in effect, offering direct connections from Václav Havel Airport Prague to 92 destinations operated by 47 carriers. The German company Eurowings, a member of the Lufthansa Group, is opening its base at Prague Airport servicing connections to 13 European destinations, including the Canary Islands and Barcelona. Ryanair has scheduled connections from Prague to 26 cities, including popular destinations such as London, Krakow and Dublin. The Smartwings Group is to operate connections to almost 20 destinations under the winter flight schedule, such as the Canary Islands, Madeira, Hurghada, Paris and Stockholm. Direct long-haul charter connections to exotic destinations such as the Maldives, Punta Cana, Mombasa, Cancún and Zanzibar will also be available from Václav Havel Airport Prague. More info

AIRPORT TOURS TO BE RESUMED

After the COVID-19 related disruption, Prague Airport is resuming its popular airport tours, providing the general public with a unique opportunity to learn more about many interesting airport professions, and visit places behind the scenes, ordinarily hidden to passengers. Experienced guides introduce the apron buzz, explain the runway system, show the tour participants around the most modern fire station in the Czech Republic, and take them to proximity of aircraft. Airport tours for school groups will be resumed first, followed by the tours for the general public.

'OPEN SKY' AGREEMENT BETWEEN EUROPEAN UNION AND UKRAINE

The Common Aviation Area Agreement, which liberalises air connections between Ukraine and the European Union, was signed on 12 October 2021. In practice, liberalisation means the end of the air transport market regulation, comprising primarily the limitation in the number of flights performed between the EU member countries and Ukraine. The new agreement will undoubtedly contribute to the development of air connections with Ukraine and may positively impact the operations of Prague Airport in the future.
